FORWARD

OUR PASSING PARADE OF MEMORIES will contain both the pleasant and the tedious. Memories of a year at Marion College resemble the accumulation of material that has never quite been started. Disconnected thoughts swirl through our minds: late hours of studying, the excitement of basketball games, the welcome change of vacations, the close bonds of friendship, the banquets. Numberless were those events that made these "the best years of our lives." For safe-keeping of these and many other memories, we present the 1953 MARIONETTE.

ADMINISTRATION

Though the load of managing a college rests heavily on the shoulders of our administrative staff, each always has a smile for students and faculty. Problems of all types and sizes occur daily, but insight and appreciation of values enable them to endeavor steadily for improvement of the old and discovery of new fields of education and growth.

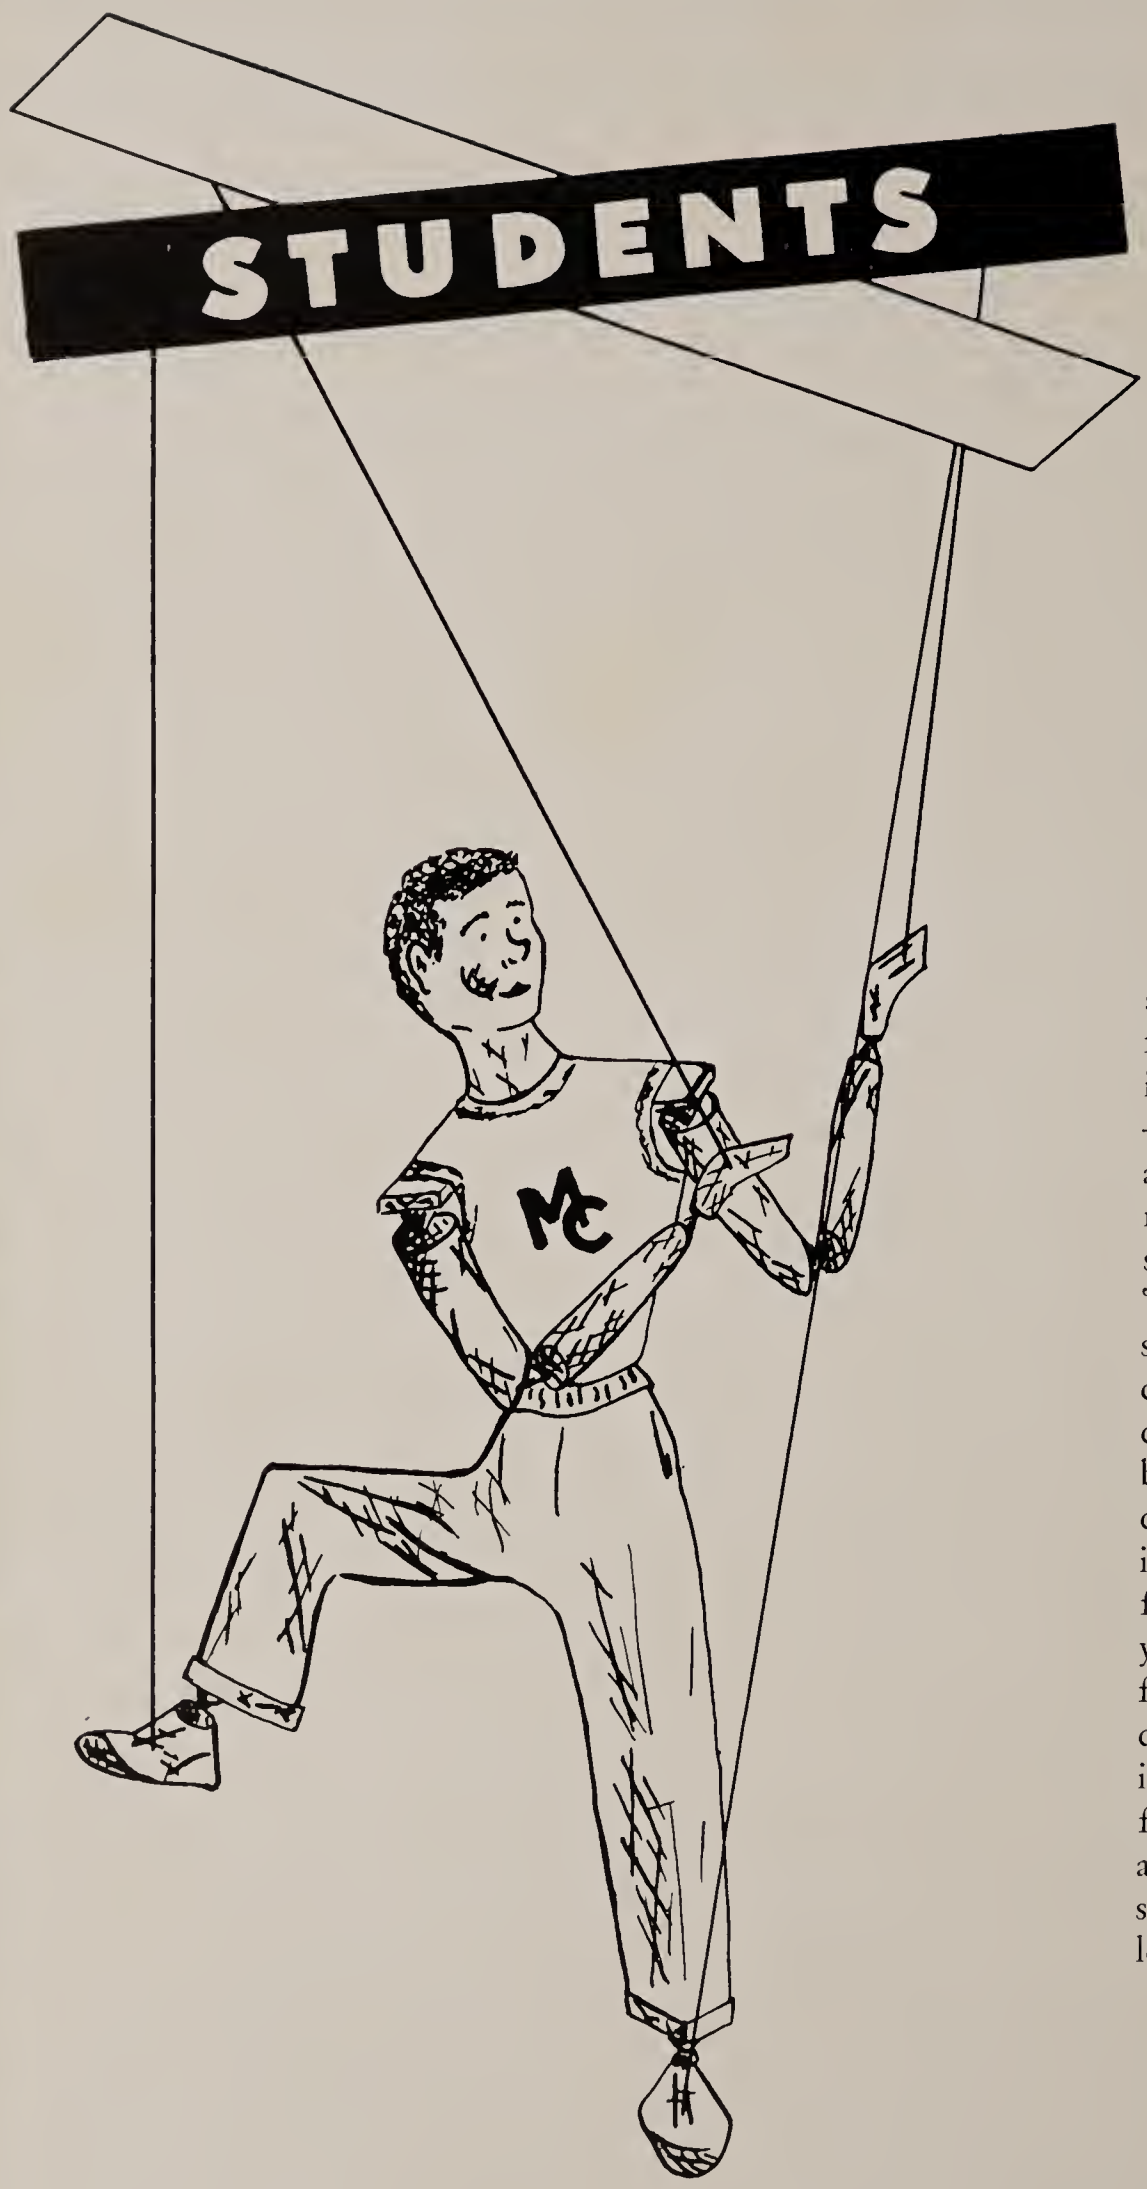
LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

"Sh" The library assistants are trying to enforce the rule placed on placards throughout the bookshelves. Wagging tongues cease as the pleasant librarians resume their duties. Miss Moshier, the efficient librarian, selects her assistants from qualified students who apply.

Standing: A. Gravely, V. Brown, Miss Moshier, A. DeHass, N. Purtee, M. Hotelling.
Seated: H. Gustin, J. Ragon, K. Pruitt, B. Yates.

KITCHEN ASSISTANTS

Fun and work are combined as the lunchroom squad plunges into helping prepare the food and clearing away "those dirty dishes." The dietician, Mrs. Shoup, encourages a friendly, happy atmosphere among the assistants.



Empty rooms, strange faces, homesickness, soon change to fun and friendly gatherings. The Freshman is swept into the whirl of college life —Frosh initiation, club meetings, and trying to study. As the Sophomore year begins, goals have been set as that Freshman has realized, "No one of my fellows can do that special work for me which I have come into the world to do: he may do a higher work, a greater work, but he cannot do my work." The determination to fulfill these goals increases during the steady climb from Sophomore, Junior, to Senior year. The grand march to the platform as the shaking hand takes the diploma brings a glad smile of satisfaction. Yet, at the end of these four years, you feel somewhat sad and wish you had stayed longer, studied harder, played oftener, and learned more.

DEAR SENIOR CLASSMATES . . .

We cannot just start out by saying, "Well, here another year has come and gone," because this has been more than just another year in our lives; it marks the attainment of a goal we had set as freshmen.

As we think back over the years we as a class have come through together, it has not been all hard study and work. There have been many grand times of relaxation and fun. Why, it seems only yesterday we had that circus for the entertainment of the Sophomore class! What a commotion we created when we were Freshmen! As Sophomores ourselves, we enjoyed the initiation ceremonies which we inflicted upon the Freshmen considerably more than the ones that had been forced on us the previous year. That same year we installed chapel platform lighting.

Then came our Junior year. We really tried to out-do ourselves by being radically unconventional and purchasing class jackets instead of sweaters. An elaborate Junior-Senior Banquet we also sponsored and paid for.

Last fall, when we returned to the campus, we could hardly conceive of the idea that we were actually Seniors. We stepped into our new role gingerly at first as if we weren't sure that was our proper place. But by the time we had started on our Senior trip ("sneak" if no Juniors read this) we were veterans at acting as dignified Seniors. That trip! ! Destination, Gatlinburg and trouble! First the bus broke down, and then it broke down again, and then again. But the fun and beautiful scenery soon surpassed those unpleasant inconveniences.

The Juniors did a wonderful job sponsoring the Junior-Senior Banquet. We Seniors relaxed, and tried to get the most enjoyment possible out of our last really important school social. It will be impossible for us to forget these many experiences we have had together in our four years of college.

But we can't stop here—this is our commencement! Now we are going out into life to be something on our own. What we amount to in the future is our individual responsibility. As a class from Freshman to Senior year, we have endeavored to be unusual and different. Let's keep this same motto whether we go out to further our education in other institutions or to fill our chosen occupation. Let's not be contented with the hum-drum, everyday and ordinary in life. Let's challenge ourselves to change things about us, not for the sake of being different, but for the sake of making things better for mankind in the world in which we live—the world whose future we are vitally helping to shape.

Sincerely yours,

David Blanchard

DEAR CLASSMATES . . .

It hardly seems possible that we are winding up our third year of college. Why, just a few weeks ago we were laboriously going through the registration lines for the Winter term and only a short time before that we were arranging our schedule for the Fall term.

While I am reminiscing, I just recalled some of those exciting things that happened in those brief months. Remember those popcorn sessions at the first of the year when we were getting acquainted? and the plans of the upper classmen? Too bad we had to cause a change in tradition, but the sleuthing was fun. The Seniors were nice to us though in providing such a wonderful picnic later.

When I wear my sweater I can't help but remember our weary efforts to secure them. How we anticipated seeing them upon returning from the Christmas holidays, only to learn we would have to wait another whole month! They will be a practical reminder of our days spent at M. C.

I suppose our greatest event was the class banquet when we fretted over plans to honor the Seniors and then "dolled up" to enjoy the occasion—that is, all except the Clean-up committee. The step from the banquet to commencement always seems short and when we can breathe freely after exams and realize that we are at last eligible to fill the position of Seniors, we feel as if all the rough places were smoother than they felt.

Our year as Juniors has passed and we look with anticipation to the honor of being Seniors; yet it is with fear and trembling that we realize in a very short time we go out to face the world. God grant that as we make our scholastic achievements we will not forget the supreme aim but press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Phil.3:14). Oh, that as we anticipate the future we would be sure that Christ is director of our affairs and continues to guide.

I hope to see each of you back next year and successful in the GRADUATING CLASS OF 1954!

Sincerely,

William French

DEAR CLASSMATES . . .

As I sit here trying to think of something appropriate to say to a fine group of classmates, I find myself looking back on all the good times we've had together. Yes, there has been hard work along with the fun, but somehow the hard work grows strangely dim in our memories, and our thoughts turn to those little things that make our college days so enjoyable.

Remember when we as Freshmen first entered the halls of M. C. a little green and shaky? We had entered upon our careers of higher education not quite knowing what it was all about. And, remember how as the days went by, and the charts, themes, and collateral were mastered we soon fell into the routine of college life? Freshman Initiation was a dreaded occasion that first year but after all was over we laughed and thought how much fun it had been, and began to wait impatiently until we would become Sophomores and it would be our turn.

By the time we had handed in our last report and the last assignment was completed we had made many new and lasting friends, some that we were not to see again; others that would return the next year. The bonds of Christian friendship were strongly forged.

As soon as we had welcomed our friends and the new students to our campus we began to hear rumors of an initiation being planned for the Freshmen. What an absurd thought! Soon enough though the results of the mysterious doings of our own Sophomore class were fully executed. When the last shoes were shined and that last paper skirt was put in mothballs we settled down to the more serious business of college life. Next was our class project—new chapel blinds. Committees were formed and duties assigned.

As I look back on these words my eyes grow moist and I think to myself, "Truly it has been good to be here. Life has grown richer because of the priceless experiences of these days and years together."

With sincerity,

Duane Deardorff

DEAR CLASSMATES . . .

I am writing to you, not for reminisence' sake entirely, but to remind you of the countless experiences we have shared together in this, our first year of college life.

Little did we realize or imagine what would be the final outcome of these nine months of college education. Our hopes were pitched to the very highest frequency in the expectancy spectrum. In the same moment we were left with an all consuming dread for what was to be before us on the paths of scholastic endeavor.

It wasn't long though until we had explored into the recesses of our new surroundings and claimed them as our very own. Next to the devotion to our Alma Mater came the cherished membership in the athletic society of our choosing (perhaps more appropriately said, our persuasion). Rush Day, ended, was a major point in our lives and the birth of a new loyalty which will remain with us throughout the future years.

Then, who can forget the thrill we witnessed at the sport event when our team was edging ahead in the final minutes of the game. Our vicariousness on the bleachers was climaxed at the magic of the final buzzer. Then we were reminded of lesson preparation that had been set aside for this more compelling drive.

Due credit must be given the one to whom our group of one hundred and twenty was entrusted. Dr. DeVol, our sponsor, encouraged, advised, and directed us, and to him goes our deep appreciation.

We were gifted with a wide range of personalities and talent in our class which made for an almost complete cross-section of interest and individuality. Our purpose, however, was vested in the one most important phase of life, "To better know life itself and to serve Him best Who gave it to us."

The bottom of this page is looming at me with the speed only equaled by that which will commemorate our absence during summer vacation. It is here then that I will say "thank you" for the splendid co-operation and enthusiasm that made our first year at college the success it was. I also wish to express my desire for a most fruitful vacation and above all, the Lord's richest blessings and guidance for you as individuals and as a group, the FRESHMAN CLASS OF '53.

I remain respectfully yours,

Richard Brown

Freshman Class President

At Marion College, the Word of God is made the Keystone of Truth. Daily chapel services, prayer meetings, revivals, and church services are times provided for worshiping the Lord. Students who came to college as unbelievers have been called into full Christian service. There are special spiritual groups where students may use their talents. As a Christian institution, Marion College has done and is continuing to do a great work.

LOOK—First things FIRST.

REVIVAL

The Fall and Spring Revivals are a very important part of college life. Workers whose lives are fully consecrated to God are chosen to lead the services.

Through the ministry of Rev. Lyman F. Lance, Fall evangelist, and Rev. Paul Kindschi, Spring evangelist with Rev. William Foster leading the singing, Marion College students were strengthened and revived.

Officers: L. Plunkett, D. DaWalt, M. Martin, presidents: N. VanDerKolk, secretary; D. Spargo, treasurer; Prof. Carter, sponsor.

EUREKANS The "Green and White" were "on the ball" in winning the Marionette sales contest and the basketball series.

Officers: R. Sigworth, W. McIntyre, B. Medows, presidents; E. Norris, secretary; N. Byler, treasurer; Dr. Dayton, sponsor.

The safe anchor and the torch held high.

STUDENT COUNCIL

It has been the object of the Student Council, acting with the knowledge that out of something good can come something great, to improve and enlarge the functions of Marion College. The many problems that face the student body are effectively dealt with by the members. This group is made up of the class presidents, one representative from each class, and the president of the council. The faculty is represented by social deans, Miss Della Waters and Professor Clarence Huffman.

The officers are: Dale Benedict, president; William French, vice president; Betty Walker, treasurer; Carolyn Taylor, secretary; Rachel Manlove, assistant secretary.

ORGANIZATIONS

IRC Believing that the "greatest need in world politics today is a clear understanding of the problems which obstruct peace and the factors which cause war," the International Relations Club has endeavored to bring an unbiased view of current history to the M. C. campus.

FTA The Future Teachers of America is a national organization which seeks to promote a professional attitude among prospective teachers.

Officers: J. Hobson, president; L. Harding, vice president; M. Heavilin, secretary; D. Spargo, treasurer.

Seated: D. Hight, president.
Standing: R. Howell, J. Newby, J. Ragon, J. Crim, Dr. Bowman (sponsor), A. Wheeler, B. Wilmot, J. Lockhart.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE CLUB The Physical Science Club has brought to its members a broader knowledge and deeper interest in the fields of physics, chemistry, and mathematics.

Officers: M. Martin, president; D. Deardorff, vice president; W. Crim, secretary.

BIO CLUB The Biology Club promotes scientific interest and knowledge through biological activities. The Audubon Screen Tours were presented this year by the Bio Club and the National Audubon Society.

Officers: D. Benedict, president; W. Crim, vice president; L. Blanchard, secretary-treasurer.

FRENCH CLUB Bonjour! The French Club meetings brought interesting side lights on all French speaking peoples of the world.

Officers: M. Heavilin, president; G. Harwell, vice president; J. Lockhart, secretary-treasurer.

SPANISH CLUB Buenas dias, Senor! Spanish customs, costumes, and current films make the Spanish Club meetings very interesting. The membership is composed of all interested students who have taken at least one year of Spanish.

Officers: P. Titus, president; R. Haak, vice president; K. Russell, secretary-treasurer.

GERMAN CLUB Through its several activities, the German Club seeks to maintain among its members a lively interest in the German language and people.

Officers: P. Wolfe, president; M. Baldwin, vice president; A. Hale, secretary-treasurer.

ENGLISH CLUB The Parnassus Club sponsored poetry and short story contests during the school year which brought out much hidden talent.

Officers: J. Houser, president; E. Shaw, vice president; N. Boschult, secretary-treasurer.

S A R You can live in a home, apartment, hotel, or subway, but all the Senators and Representatives claim and vow that you haven't lived at all until you've hung your hat in Congress Hall. It's an unusual week when a little relaxing horseplay doesn't take place in the form of a pillow or water fight, or harmless pranks. The social highlight for the men this year was the Easter Breakfast. The Congressmen shed their dignity to don aprons and chef hats as they prepared the all-school 7:00 o'clock breakfast.

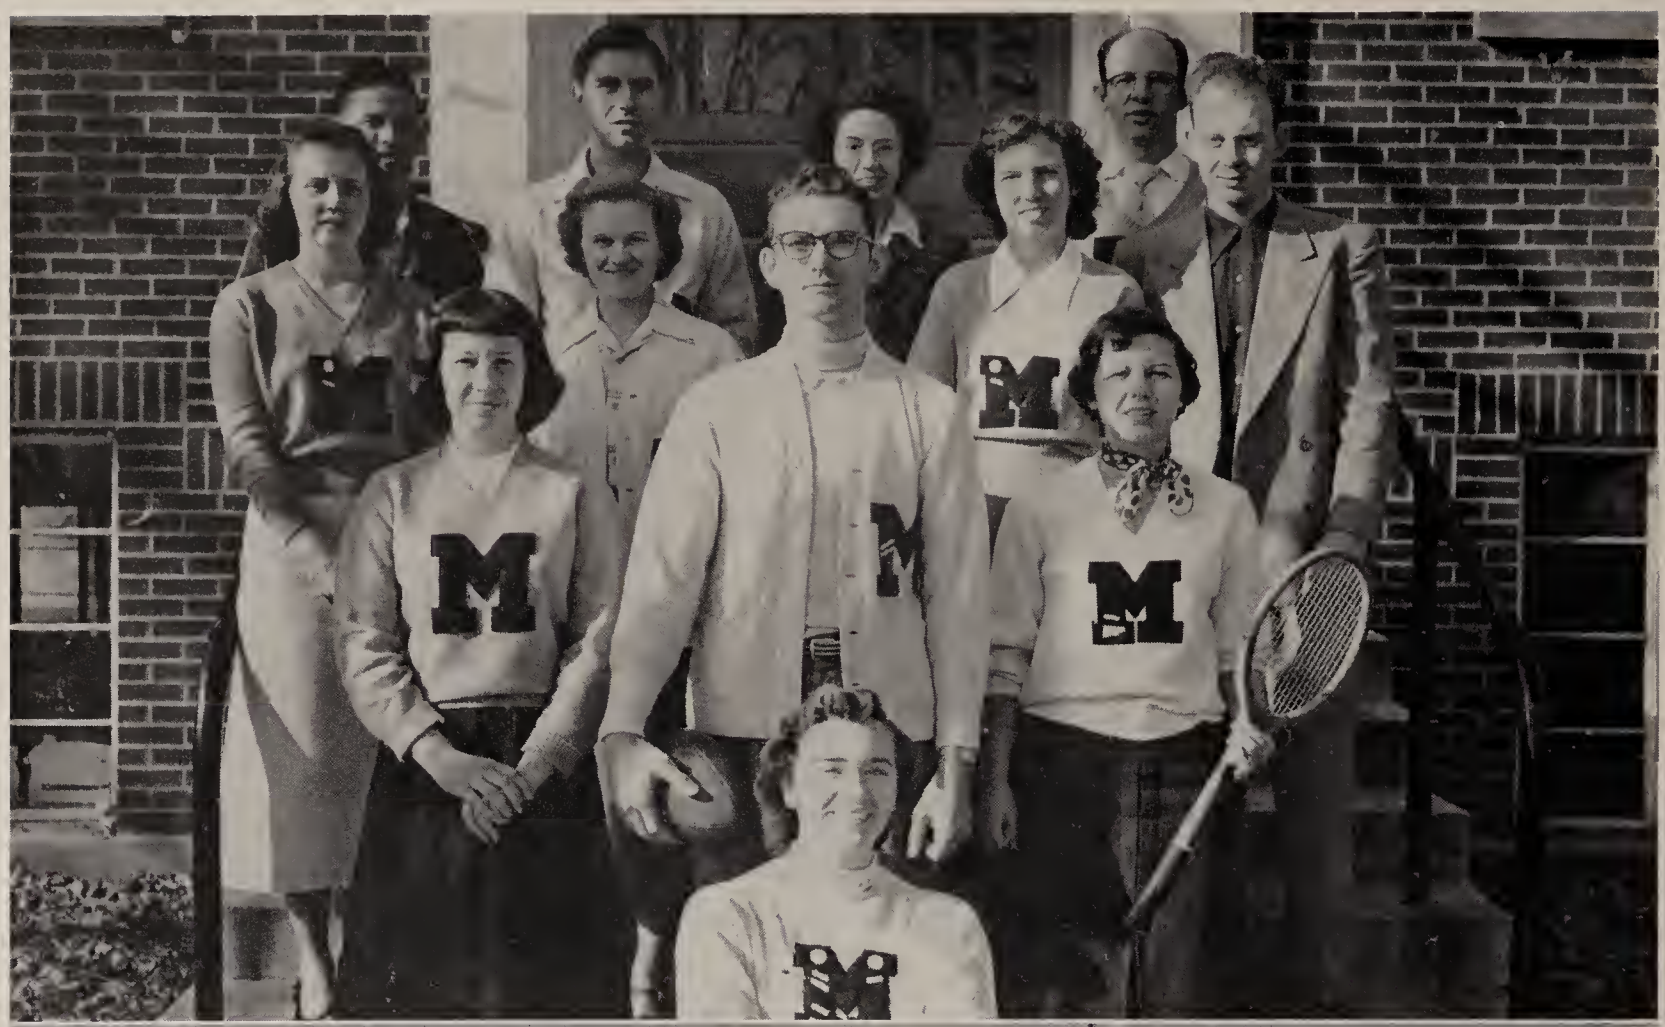
The officers were: T. McPherson, president; T. Striker, vice president; W. French, secretary-treasurer; E. Kean, chaplain.

C C C The Council of Cheerful Comrades is an organization of the girls on the campus. It sponsored and arranged the Christmas Dinner, the Valentine Dinner, and Birthday Dinner.

Officers: R. Calhoon, F. Chadwick, presidents; E. Fisher, vice president; B. Chess, secretary; J. Wiksell, treasurer.

"M" CLUB The "M" Club is responsible for regulating inter-society athletics and setting up rules governing the winning of the athletic letters.

Officers: M. Opliger, president; R. Curtis, vice president; L. Miller, secretary-treasurer.



FORENSIC CLUB The Forensic Club seeks to help its members develop platform poise, a pleasing personality, and skill in oratory, radio speech, interpretation, and conversation.

Officers: E. Mosher, president; J. Krug, vice president; Miss Emerson, sponsor.

DEBATE Members of the debate class gave much discussion pro and con to the year's national college question: Resolved, That the Congress of the United States Should Enact a Fair Employment Practices Law.

FINE ARTS

ART FORUM The Art Forum gives its members a chance to develop artistic qualities through art appreciation. Its motto, "Simplicity is the keynote to all beauty," is demonstrated through its activities.

Officers: G. Heasley, president; W. Smith, vice president; E. Backa, secretary; R. Hooker, treasurer.

COMMUNITY CHORUS

Prof. Herman Baker, Director

COMMUNITY CHORUS The Marion College Community Chorus presented Handel's Messiah during the Christmas season and Dubois' The Seven Last Words of Christ on Palm Sunday. This organization has become recognized for the splendid presentations of great beauty.

Messiah Soloists: H. Johnson, contralto; Don DaWalt, tenor; Robert Eubanks, baritone.

WHO'S

Students are elected on the basis of scholarship, participation in extra curricular activities, and general contribution to the campus in some area.

SHIRLEY JOHNSON has participated largely in the field of music as a member of the a cappella choir, various trios and other ensembles, and appeared numerous times as a soloist.

EDWIN MOSHER'S interest has centered to some extent in the field of missions. This year, as president of the special missionary committee which sponsors our regular missionary project, he has probably rendered his greatest service, but he was active also in the work of the Foreign Missions Fellowship.

WHO ?

DALE BENEDICT has been a member of the College Male Quartet for the past three years and has traveled distances greater than that of the circumference of the earth representing Marion College before the public. He served this year as president of the Student Council.

GEORGE COLE was this year's president of the Student Conference and has been active particularly in gospel team and other religious work during his stay on the campus.

DAVID BLANCHARD can particularly represent our publications, having been both assistant manager and business manager of the Marionette, and having held several other positions on the publication staffs. He was also very popular as the Senior Class president.

It's been quite a year—full of postponements, full of deadlines that weren't met and deadlines that were, great plans that never came off and some that did, people that co-operated and some that didn't. We worked on it and sometimes it didn't seem worth it. We overcut all our classes and then overcut again. But it's been fun and experience and friendships and good honest work. Anyway, it's another Marionette . . . . we hope you like it.

Dr. Porter Has New Position On M. C

The President Speaks . .

Marion College is happy for the privilege of welcoming everyone to the campus

For weeks we have been making preparation for your coming. The committee on schedules has spent long hours arranging the class schedule. The Business Office has been busy getting the necessary equipment ready. The maintenance department has trained and varnished. We are never quite ready when registration times comes, yet we always start the work of the year early.

We are happy that you are here. We hope to make the year both profitable and enjoyable for you. If you need information, do not hesitate to ask question. If you have needs, make them known. If you have problems, come in and discuss them with us. Some of us have been over the same road you are going and if experience has anything, we are here.

Varsity Quartet Concludes Work

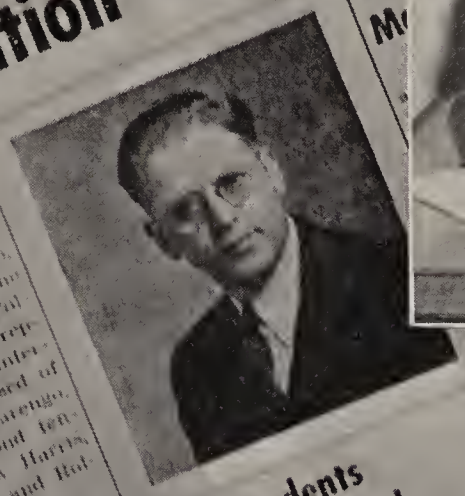
Services at Fairmount Camp, Fairmount, Indiana, terminated the summer activities of Marion College Varsity Quartet, in their reputation of MC and her interests. The quartet was composed of Dale Benedict, first tenor, Marengo, Ohio, Donald Dawalt, second tenor, Argos, Indiana; Frank Harris, baritone, Odum, Georgia; and Holland Cooley, bass, Michigan. The experiences of the quartet have been many. During their summer travels they have covered over 11,000 miles through 11 states. During this time they report the unusual presence of God upon them in their services and activities. This fall finds the group dishanded. Frank Harris, who graduated from MC in June, has taken a charge in Odum, Georgia. The rest of the members have returned to school.

Journal Staff To Be Completed

We are sorry that we cannot announce a complete JOURNAL staff at this time. A few staff members have been appointed but there are still many vacancies to be filled. The 1952-53 JOURNAL has published this early taste to assist you in registration and in getting acquainted with the program of Marion College.

The Journal has set as its aims for the coming year: 1 To put first things first. 2 For the continual growth of Marion College. 3 For better college-town relationship. 4 For better student-faculty understanding. 5 For a larger JOURNAL, better news coverage.

May we depend on you to aid us in our endeavors?



New Students Are Entertained

On Friday, September fifth, the new students were entertained with a program held in the dining hall of Teter Hall. The program was sponsored by the Senior Advisors. A skit was read portraying the experiences which might be those of a new student on M. C. campus after a day of Freshman orientation.

The cure for the weariness of heart and body felt by our fresh- man sufferer was found to be in his communion with the Christ in private devotions and in his daily walk with Him. The students present at the affair gleaned from the evening entertainment a lesson to be valued.

OPEN DOORS

Prayer Poem Dedicated to the Faculty of Marion College (Written Sept 3, at 3 a m.)

Open doors of power and blessing
Thou redemptive love of God
With Thy health and with Thy healing
Help us tread where Jesus trod!

Refrain:
Open doors! Open doors!
Thou redemptive Love of God!
With Thy health and with Thy power,
Help us tread where Jesus trod!

May we hear the silent message
Of Thy cross, O holy Christ,
Where Thou was so fully tortured
When Thy life was sacrificed.

Senior Convocation Is Held

Marion College senior convocation was held Friday, August 8, in the chapel.

Following the address by Rev. C. L. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian Church of Marion, Dr. W. F. McCoun president of Marion College, conferred degrees upon 33 students, 3 of those receiving a Bachelor of Theology; 9, Bachelor of Arts; 13, Bachelor of Arts with a major in Religion; 6, Bachelor of Science in Education; 3, Bachelor of Religion.

Progress Made On Now Williams Hall

Williams Hall is soon to become a reality! After years of wishful wishing, hopeful planning and earnest effort, the construction of Williams Hall is soon to commence.

It is in hopes that the ground breaking ceremony for the new men's dormitory will take place on Homecoming Day, October 4, as announced. Actual construction of the building will not begin the early spring.

May we make this an item of earnest prayer

Headlines, deadlines, and lost minds! On the campus, the Journal continued to furnish the College with complete coverage of campus happenings. The columns of the paper carried comment and feature work by campus journalists.

LOOK—We PLAY!

Sports minded students participated enthusiastically in the program of football, basketball, softball, volleyball, tennis, ping-pong, shuffleboard and others.

Enthusiasm ran high, especially so among the teams. Competition was very keen between the two societies, Amphic and Eurekan. Neither wished to budge an inch for the other, resulting in some very exciting and close contests.

46 AMPHIC BASKETBALL

The AMPHICS opened the '53 cage campaign in great style, copping the initial decision in the final minutes after trailing throughout the greater part of the first game of the basketball season. Coached by Gordon Carrier, the determined Brown and White gave it all they had. They lost the last game by only two points.

The outstanding individual performance for the team was Dick Darst's 24 points in the final game. Darst also tied Wes McIntyre of the Eurekans for total points scored, 62.

Team members were: H. Icenhour, A. Weatherby, F. Vandine, D. Darst, G. Carrier, L. Plunkett, G. Cole.

EUREKAN BASKETBALL 51

The EUREKANS, led by Wes McIntyre, captured their second consecutive yearly basketball championship by taking the last four games of a short series. John Cole led both Amphic and Eurekan teams with a 13.5 average for four games. Teammate McIntyre followed with 12.4. Cole also held his team's season high record with markers in the third tussle.

Although the Green and White made it a short series, the final victory was uncertain until late in the last quarter of each game.

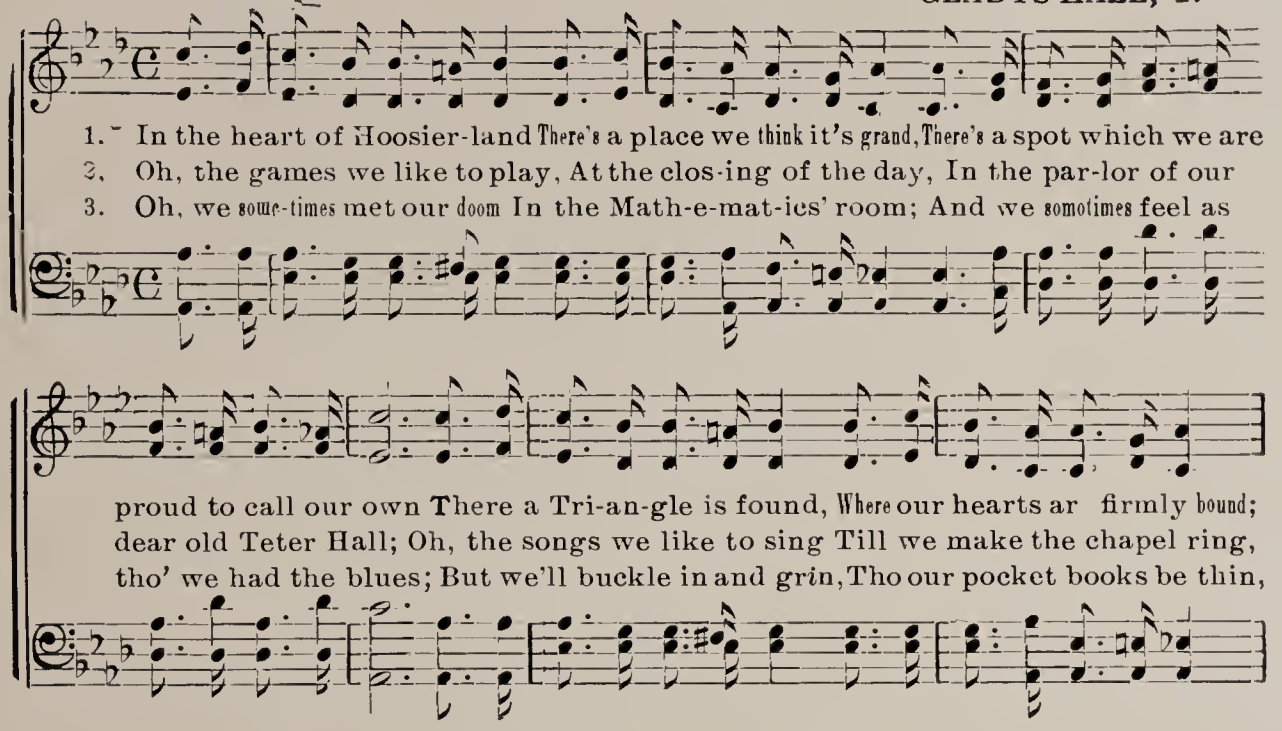
THE MOST UNFORGETTABLE CHARACTERS I'VE EVER MET . . .

DOWN ON THE OLD TRIANGLE.

JOHN L. LEEDY

GLADYS HALL, '27



1. In the heart of Hoosier-land There's a place we think it's grand, There's a spot which we are
2. Oh, the games we like to play, At the clos-ing of the day, In the par-lor of our
3. Oh, we some-times met our doom In the Math-e-mat-ics' room; And we somotimes feel as proud to call our own There a Tri-an-gle is found, Where our hearts ar firmly bound;
dear old Teter Hall; Oh, the songs we like to sing Till we make the chapel ring, tho' we had the blues; But we'll buckle in and grin, Tho our pocket books be thin, Refrain.
And a loyal band of stu-dents tried and true.
And the fel-low-ship of friends the best of all. Down on the Old Tri - an - gle,
For we're hap-py in the ups and downs of life.
Oh, Pals! the times we've had, Down on the Old Tri-an-gle School never seemed so bad;
An' when out in life With it's toil and strife, We'll re-mem-ber our dear Old Tri-an-gle.

Thanks . . .

Don, for all the times you had to run to town for more film . . . for the terrific paste-up job in the class section . . . for dependability . . . Martha and Ethel, for your willingness to work and for being a great help . . . Janice, for doing "rushed up" writing . . . for that fine job of the snapshots . . . Nancy, for doing your best to send me the work . . . Phil, for doing a wonderful job of the sports section . . . Junior, for those last minute sketches which were "tops" . . . Ruth and Pat, for the scheduling of photos 'til blue in the face . . . for reams of paper filled with typing . . . Don Leach, for taking some good pictures . . . William, for those campus photos, even though the camera never did work . . . for patient, hard work . . . for dependability . . . for putting up with an editor's ideas . . . Naomi, for cutting classes to help with class portraits . . . Lois, for those little jobs only you could do . . . for hard work . . . for your willingness to work . . . Miss Elder, for ideas . . . for assistance over the rough spots . . . for guidance . . . Mark, for being a business manager who minded his own, yet was never too busy to help . . . John and Dave, for assisting the business manager . . . to all of you for putting up with an editor's eccentricities,
